

Vermont's Problem:

Government spends beyond our means.

My Mission:

Fiscally responsible representation.

My Pledge to You:

"I will measure every action I take against its impact on jobs and your family's economic health."

Completing his 12th Vermont City Marathon, Tom with wife Dr. Anita Licata and children Thomas and Isabel.

Tom Licata

for State Senate
Chittenden County
Independent Candidate

*"Growing the economy and creating jobs remain
the best ways to fight poverty."*

— Al From

Vote Tom Licata

Licata Understands Economic Realities:

- ▶ No private sector job growth this past decade.
- ▶ $3.5 billion in pending costs with no plan to pay for them.
- ▶ We lose our youth at four times the national average. Our population over age 65 doubles in 20 years.
- ▶ A 30% housing growth shortfall by 2012.
- ▶ Vermont is one of the most taxed, most regulated and least competitive states in our nation.

Licata Will Promote Job Creation:

Preserving vital government services and keeping taxes low can be accomplished responsibly only through expanding our taxable base and creating jobs. I will make this my priority.

Licata Envisions New Frontiers:

A "Yes We Can" attitude requires changing Montpelier's entrenched culture. We need to liberate our economy from harmful and unreasonable regulatory and tax policies.

Licata Is a Strategic Thinker:

"Unfortunately, the state is short on formal long-range strategic thinking," reports Governing Magazine. I will work to make long-range planning a state priority.
